

January 2011

News from UNIAPAC Executive Office

It is a joy to offer to all my very best wishes for this New Year. May 2011 brings all of us happiness and to our Associations the joys to help further our members to answer the Gospel call.

The last quarter of 2010, we have been very active in setting up the UNIAPAC Foundation. It is now in place. Eduardo ANINAT is fully operational and we have defined with him our priorities for 2011 where we will put in place the Foundation capacities to act at the service of our Associations.

Our key 2011 priorities are:

- to pursue the development of the UNIAPAC net work in Africa
- to establish the UNIAPAC International Think Tank which will nourish the National Associations and radiate in the world our vision of a man centred economy
- To support our continuous drive to promote our CSR vision
- To establish links with Universities
- Review National Association needs and resources
- Start to create our lobbying network with International Institutions

-In Africa, we have now created 4 National Associations in Senegal, Burkina Faso, Cameroun and Angola and are setting up 3 new ones in Togo, Benin and Gabon. With our older association in RDC this will add up to 9 associations by the end of this year. We are also building up a training corpus to train their members on how to run a UNIAPAC Association, how to build a common spiritual path and on CSR.

-For the Think Tank, we organized on December 20th 2010 a brain storming meeting with the participation of Michel Camdessus, Professors Zamagni and de Woot, Jérôme Vignon, Michael Naughton (who made a special round trip from the US to participate), Dr Krauze from Germany. A very fruitful half day meeting which set very good bases on which to build the International network of the Think Tank.

-For CSR, our Latin American associations are preparing a plan to update the Protocole and further expand the CSR training in Latin America.

Contact with Universities and training bodies are being engaged. Eduardo will be next week in Chile to sign an agreement with UNESCO/LACSO to build and promote a common training corpus on CSR. We will launch this first quarter a survey of our National Association to review the work they have already carried and which could be of interest globally and of their needs to promote our vision of the economy.

-For the International Institutions, Eduardo is very active and has already established very positive contacts with UNESCO, OECD, ILO, World Bank and IMF.

-For UNIAPAC, I am also extremely happy to report that Burkhard Leffers has accepted to take the European Presidency with the strong support of the BKU. This is a wonderful sign of hope and I am sure that with the European Associations support, he will be able to create a new collective dynamism in Europe.

We all devote energy and work to deploy UNIAPAC wonderful resources. Let all make sure that with the help of the Holy Spirit, 2011 will mark a new major step forward for UNIAPAC.
